

RUTGERS FOOTBALL

1958

The 90th Season

BILL AUSTIN: Rutgers Next All-American?

Statistics alone don't prove the greatness of a football player, but there's one important fact about cold, raw figures: They tell the truth!

Statistically, here's what tailback Billy Austin, perhaps the best back in Rutgers history, accomplished last fall:

Total Offense of 1,425 yards (second in nation by 19 yards, first in east; the leader in nation played one more game than Austin did);

Rushed for 946 yards (second in east, fourth in nation);

Passed for three touchdowns, had only three of 80 passes intercepted;

Intercepted four passes himself, returning them for 181 yards, two for TD's;

Scored 12 touchdowns, two extra points, one of nation's highest totals;

Punted 24 times without any being blocked;

Ran and passed 305 yards against Columbia, a new Rutgers total offense record for one game;

Scored all four touchdowns against Richmond;

Scored three and passed for one touchdown against Colgate;

Had touchdowns runs of 75, 76, 84 and 87 yards.

Coach John Stiegman says Austin is "at least the equal of Dick Kazmaier, Princeton's All-American of several years ago, as a running back." Stiegman coached them both. "He can do everything," Stiegman says.

Austin's exploits were not unnoticed last year. The Associated Press named him All-East. The United Press named him to their second team, all-east. The E.C.A.C. and N. Y. Daily News both selected him for their first team. He was honorable mention All-American and twice was nominated by the A.P. as "back of the week."

Other coaches have this to say about him:

Dick Colman, Princeton: "Austin is the most dangerous runner we faced all year. His speed and range make him a good defensive back, too, and he is rapidly developing as a passer."

Buff Donelli, Columbia: "Austin is an excellent runner with the very fine knack of using his blockers."

Dave Nelson, Delaware: "Austin is the best running back we saw."

Fred Rice, Colgate: "I have nothing but high praise for Austin. He is an outstanding football player, one of the best in the East."

Bob Ingalls, Connecticut: "Austin is one of the best halfbacks in the East."

Ed Merrick, Richmond: "Great, great, great! I think Austin is the best back we have seen this year (1957).

Rutgers, The State University

Rutgers, the State University, began as a struggling colonial college before the Revolution. Founded in 1766 by Dutch pioneers, Rutgers was originally called Queens College under a charter from King George III of England. The young college's existence was threatened by the Revolution, but growth followed that conflict, just as unprecedented expansion was experienced after the last World War.

Rutgers was given its present name in 1825, after generous gifts had been received from Colonel Henry Rutgers, a New York philanthropist. Forty years later it was designated the Land Grant College of New Jersey, the liberal arts course was enlarged, and courses leading to bachelor degrees in agriculture and engineering were added.

In 1902 a ceramics department was established, New Jersey College for Women with its own New Brunswick campus, was founded in 1918; the School of Education added in 1923; and in 1925 the Extension Division for non-degree education and the School of Journalism were established. The College of Pharmacy was added in 1927. University College, degree-granting evening division, was established in 1934, and Newark University was merged with Rutgers in 1946. In 1945, the State Legislature brought all divisions of Rutgers within the designation of the State University of New Jersey. In 1950, an act of the State Legislature incorporated the College of South Jersey in Camden, including a two-year liberal arts college and a law school, into the State University as the Rutgers College of South Jersey. The liberal arts college has since expanded to a four-year curriculum. In April, 1955, N.J.C. was renamed Douglass College. In 1956, under a reorganization program, the University was officially designated, Rutgers, The State University, and came under the management of an 11-man Board of Governors.

The Rutgers Coaching Staff

John R. Stiegman, Head Coach

JOHN R. STIEGMAN, appointed head coach in February, 1956, is a 35-year-old graduate of Williams College. Now in his first head coaching position, he was an aide to the late Charley Caldwell at Princeton from 1946 to 1955.

Stiegman attended Riverside High School in his native Buffalo, N. Y., and entered Williams after his graduation. In addition to being an outstanding tackle, he was a distance swimmer and played hockey and lacrosse.

He was graduated from Williams in 1944 and served two years in the Navy, seeing action in the Normandy invasion and later in the Pacific Theater before joining Caldwell at Princeton in 1946. At first he was on the freshman coaching staff, moving to the varsity as line coach in 1949. In the days of two-platoon football, he was the defensive specialist.

At Princeton he coached hockey and 150-pound crew in addition to football. He is Rutgers' 14th football coach since 1900.

Stiegman is married to the former Elizabeth Tindall of Princeton. The couple has two children, Holly, 9, and Elthea, 7. They live in Highland Park.

Matthew J. Bolger, Jr., End Coach

A NATIVE OF Newark, Matthew J. Bolger is a graduate of Cornell University. After completing St. Benedict's Prep in Newark where he earned all-state mention in 1940, he entered Notre Dame. He served in the Marine Air Corps during 1942-45, seeing Pacific duty on an aircraft carrier. Bolger entered Cornell after leaving the service, graduating in 1948. He began his coaching career the next year as St. Benedict's line coach. In 1950 he moved to Upsala College and in 1951 joined the Brown University staff as end coach. Bolger came to Rutgers in March, 1956. He is 38 years old. Bolger lives in Edison Township.

Joseph J. Stanczyk, Backfield Coach

BACKFIELD COACH at Columbia under Lou Little for 10 years, Joe Stanczyk joined the Rutgers staff in March, 1957, when Frank Burns resigned to take a high school coaching post. A Columbia graduate, he is a Navy veteran and coached six years at Admiral Farragut Academy, where his teams lost only three games in six years. In addition to football, he coached basketball and track at Farragut. The holder of a Master's Degree from Columbia Teachers College, Stanczyk and his wife, Lois, live in Glen Rock.

Robert S. McCoy, Line Coach

FORMER SINGLE wing center at Penn State, Bob McCoy is serving his third year on a college coaching staff. He was head coach at three Pennsylvania high schools during 1951-1956, serving two years at each. Most recently the Lock Haven, Pa., native was at Sunbury High. Earlier he coached at Northumberland and Ford City. An honorable mention All-American performer, McCoy played under Bob Higgins at Penn State during 1944-46. He once earned Associated Press "Lineman of the Week" honors. McCoy lives in Highland Park.

Warren E. Harris, Freshman Coach

BEFORÉ JOINING Rutgers staff in March, 1956, Warren Harris was head coach at Liberty High School in Bethlehem, Pa., for two years. A graduate of Missouri Valley College, the Dexter, Iowa, native was second team halfback on the Little All-American squad in 1942. He served 32 months in the Navy after his 1943 graduation from Missouri Valley, participating in the Normandy invasion. He played two seasons with the Bethlehem Bulldogs (1946-47) after his discharge, returning to his alma mater as backfield coach and later moving to Edwardsville (Ill.) High as football and track coach. He also coaches Rutgers Varsity Basketball team.

The Forecast - 1958

Spearheaded by all-east Bill Austin, a tailback who has demonstrated the ability to make the attack work, the versatile single wing offensive Coach John Stiegman has been developing at Rutgers the past two seasons should be ready to cope with all situations this fall.

To say Austin is the key man for Rutgers is no overstatement. Yet, it would be inaccurate to classify the Scarlet "impotent" if Austin were incapacitated for a period. There are veterans at all positions except wingback, experienced tailback reserves, and promising sophomores to fill the graduation-and-injury-created vacancies.

Austin, second nationally and eastern leader in total offense last year, is not the only talented returnee. In 6-2, 205-pound junior Bob Simms, Rutgers has one of the east's best all-around ends. Larry Muschiatti, a compact, durable guard, provides the Scarlet with a dependable two-way lineman.

Austin, Simms and Muschiatti are the standouts among the 18 lettermen, a total two less than expected. Injuries have forced end Nick Neiley and wingback Jay Hunton to the sidelines. Hunton's loss leaves Dick Pencek, fourth string last year, as the only returning wingback and projects sophomore Arnie Byrd into consideration as a regular.

Byrd may become the most valuable of the sophomores, but others who have been awaited by the varsity staff with eager anticipation are tackles Justin Pahls and Bob Blanchfield, guards Jim Horner and John Pregnolato, center Les Sneed, blocking back Larry Makarevich and fullback Bill Tully.

In pre-season planning, here's how the personnel was slotted:

LE	Simms	CLARK	Kiley	Darlington
LT	Clark		*Pahls	*Mabius
LG	Muschiatti		Gustin	*Horner
C	Mozzochi		Rogers	*Senft
RG	Sharp		*Pregnolato	*Peacock, *Hall
RT	Pulley		*Blanchfield	Howard
RE	Wermuth		Hopwood	*Blake
QB	Crosby			*Makarevich
LH	Austin		Naso	Wolff
RH	Pencek		Webster	*Anacafora
FB	Seaman		*Byrd	McGoey, *Tully
			Veth

"This is a team with fine potential," Stiegman said. "It must reach its peak form early, however, with two of the toughest foes on tap first."

In addition to rating Princeton and Colgate as the strongest opponents, Stiegman expects Lehigh to continue in high gear and thinks Delaware might be the best team the Scarlet will play. Columbia, according to Stiegman, will be much improved, as will Richmond, a young team which developed well last year. Stiegman deferred judgment on Lafayette and Bucknell, teams with new coaches. Quantico cannot be evaluated until the schedule gets underway.

Scarlet Players

The 1958 Captain

WILLIAM AUSTIN, senior tailback. Bill Austin, an All-East halfback in 1957, may well be the most versatile and most expert back in Rutgers History. Fast, shifty, strong defensively, an improving passer, and quick, accurate punter, he combines every asset a coach could seek in a back except size. However, despite weighing only 170 pounds, he has good power. A natural leader with an even temperament, Bill is an ideal selection as captain. An honorable mention All-American lacrosse player last spring, he is a graduate of Scotch Plains High School. English major. (For additional data see inside front cover.)

Ends

RICHARD BLAKE, sophomore. An end at West Orange High School, Dick is an unknown quantity this fall. He suffered a broken leg playing baseball last summer and was unable to compete on the gridiron. Outstanding first baseman. Math-Education major.

GEORGE DARLINGTON, sophomore. Possessed of excellent "football savvy" George earned freshman reputation for not making same mistake twice. Good hustler, adjusts well to situations. With an injury keeping Nick Neiley sidelined, Darlington may play. Charleston (W. Va.) High graduate, physical education major.

CHARLES FRICK, sophomore. A reserve end with last year's frosh eleven, Frick played his high school ball in York, Pa. Economics major.

BILL HOPWOOD, senior. A letter-winning fullback the past two seasons, Bill is moving to the line for the first time in his career. Good speed and defensive ability should make him fine end. Was a regular outfielder on last spring's baseball team. Graduate of Monroe-Woodbury High, Central Valley, N. Y. Economics major.

ALFRED KILEY, junior. An exceptional punter, Al was used mostly in that capacity last fall. He booted six times, averaging 38 yards, including several over 50 yards. Is former back from Gorton High in Yonkers, N. Y. Also competes in track. Physical Education major.

ROBERT KISH, sophomore. After playing three line positions at Perth Amboy High, Kish was installed at end for the frosh last season. Education major.

ROBERT SIMMS, junior. Honorable mention all-east as a sophomore, Bob could be one of the east's best ends. Big, strong and fast, he was leading pass receiver, catching 12 for 180 yards. He also was a terror on defense. Competes in track, throwing discus. Graduate of Charleston, W. Va., High, is brother of guard Gene, who was graduated last June, and Steve, freshman fullback. Political Science major.

CHARLES "DUTCH" WERMUTH, senior. A double letter-winner, Dutch should be ready for his best year with most of his pre-medical studies behind him. A rugged competitor both in football and basketball, he caught 11 passes for 129 yards last fall. Palmyra High graduate.

Tackles

ROBERT BLANCHFIELD, sophomore. Almost 6-5, 210 pounds, Bob's rapid development last fall was one of biggest surprises of frosh season. Is very much in the picture for duty at right tackle, behind Bill Pulley. Good speed, also played frosh basketball. Butler High graduate. Chemistry major.

ROBERT CLARK, junior. Bob made the shift from end to tackle extremely well last fall and saw regular service behind captain Dick Pfeiffer. Exceptionally fast for a 6-4, 210-pounder, he'll be top contender for starting honors at left tackle. Graduate of Millville High. Education major.

RUSSELL DEMAREST, senior. Returning to football after a two-year lapse, Russ could be a big help, especially on defense, if he can regain top shape. A standout with the freshmen in 1955, he was All-State, All-Catholic at St. Cecelia High in Englewood. Economics major.

RICHARD HOWARD, senior. Prone to injuries each of the last two seasons, Dick has yet to reach development expected of him. Rapid physical growth from 170 pounds as a freshman to 215 now has hurt his speed. If he can avoid injury, this Newburgh (N. Y.) Academy graduate should see regular service. Political Science major.

MART KUUSKVERE, sophomore. An end last year and at New Brunswick High School, Mart's lack of speed has prompted his shift to the interior line. A native of Estonia. Majoring in Physical Education.

LEONARD MABIUS, sophomore. Weight problems last fall prevented Len from seeing much action with the frosh eleven, making his value this year something of an unknown quantity. Was a standout tackle at Harrisburgh (Pa.) Catholic. Electrical Engineering major.

JUSTIN PAHLS, sophomore. Potentially, "Jud" is the best varsity tackle aspirant Rutgers has welcomed in quite a while. He has size, speed and agility necessary for an excellent two-way lineman. Slotted behind Clark at left tackle, he'll be very much in running for starting job. Graduate of Mahanoy City (Pa.) High. Mechanical Engineering major.

WILLIAM PULLEY, junior. A regular at right tackle all last year, Bill matured as the season progressed and should be ready for more consistent performance. Also a track competitor, he established a new Rutgers record in the shot put last spring. Graduate of Liberty High in Bethlehem, Pa. Industrial Engineering major.

HERBERT THOMS, junior. Lack of speed limits Herb's value, but he's a conscientious worker who played well in limited action last year. Played at Middletown Township High under former Rutgers great, Arnie Trux. History major.

Guards

WALTER BATEMAN, sophomore. Walt saw duty as a reserve guard with last year's freshman eleven. Played at Lakewood High School. Electrical engineering major.

SILVIO DELL ANGELA, junior. After being tried at center and end, Sil now is settled at guard, but his development last fall was impeded by the experiments. Good competitor, he is graduate of Highland Park High. Economics major.

PAUL GUSTIN, junior. After graduating from Harrisburg (Pa.) Catholic in 1953, Paul worked several years before deciding he wanted a degree. Shared left guard job last year with Larry Muschiatti. Good hustler, hard worker, is only married squad member. Mechanical Engineering major.

STEPHEN HALL, sophomore. Extra-fast reactions and remarkable agility mark the play of Hall who is troubled by a chronic shoulder ailment. With the new substitution rule in effect, he may be counted on as a defensive specialist. Also is member of crew. Wakefield High (Arlington, Va.) graduate. Sociology major.

JAMES HORNER, sophomore. Potentially an excellent lineman, 220-pound Jim may be slowed in development while recovering from a ligament injury suffered in freshman wrestling last winter. Very quick for a big man, he's slotted behind Muschiatti and Gustin. Graduate of Paulsboro. Physical Education major.

LARRY MUSCHIATTI, senior. A solid, reliable performer, Larry has started all except three games the past two years. Although not impressive physically, he is an accomplished blocker, difficult to block, and ranks as one of the Scarlet's best interior linemen. Graduate of Hamilton High in Trenton. Chemistry major.

JOHN PREGNOLATO, sophomore. A starting member of the frosh eleven last fall, John already has developed better than the coaching staff expected. In addition, he's picked up weight and may give Nugent Sharp a battle for the right guard spot. Irvington High graduate. Mechanical Engineering major.

JOHN SCHRUM, junior. John showed to good advantage upon occasion last fall but didn't perform consistently. A "dark horse" candidate for regular duty, he competes in track in addition to football. Graduate of New Brunswick High. Industrial Engineering major.

Centers

RONALD FLUKE, sophomore. With Les Senft, Ron Fluke held down the center job for the freshman team last fall. A "good football player," Fluke passes accurately and rates high on defense. A graduate of Altoona (Pa.) High. Engineering major.

ARMAND GLASSMAN, junior. Last year's reserve experience may insert Glassman into the center picture which appears to be one of the squad's deepest. Better offensively than on defense, Armand is a graduate of Paterson Central High. Biological Sciences major.

JOSEPH GRECKY, sophomore. A reserve with the frosh, Joe played at Minersville, Pa., High. Also participated in freshman lacrosse. Chemistry major.

DONALD MOZZOCHI, senior. Smallest of the centers, Don probably will be the starting choice on the basis of two years of regular play. His passing improved considerably last fall and he progressed well as a line-backer. Graduate of Notre Dame High, West Haven, Conn. Biological Sciences major.

JAMES ROGERS, junior. A fine blocking back as a freshman, Jim was shifted to center last year after reporting to camp with a pulled muscle. He played little on offense, but performed creditably as a line backer. He should be ready to play both ways this fall. Graduate of Shaw High School in Cleveland. Education major.

LESTER SENFT, sophomore. The number one frosh pivot man, Les exhibited outstanding offensive ability and is labeled "a natural." Could fit into staff's plans early. Bowed No. 6 oar with frosh crew last spring. Biggest of the centers at 195, he is Camden High graduate. Business major.

Quarterbacks

LARRY BROWN, sophomore. A former high school guard, Larry was shifted to blocking back last fall and excelled as a line backer. Rated on par with Frank Lugossy, both of them having played in reserve to Larry Makarevich. Graduate of North Miami (Fla.) High. Mechanical Engineering major.

CHARLES "SAM" CROSBY, senior. An excellent line backer throughout his football career, Sam learned single wing play calling last fall and was a starter most of the year. A capable passer, he is a vicious tackler despite his 5-7, 175-pound frame. Graduate of Somerville High School. English-Education major.

FRANK LUGOSSY, sophomore. An all-Delaware Valley choice at Trenton's Hamilton High, Frank is a real scrapper, exceptionally aggressive on defense. Filled in when Makarevich was sick last fall on frosh eleven. Lugossy, Brown and Crosby have almost exact same physical dimensions. Physical Education major.

LARRY MAKAREVICH, sophomore. A 200-pounder, Larry is the biggest of the blocking backs by 20 pounds. His size, good blocking ability and all around ability make him a threat for first team honors once he learns play-calling. Progress in '57 was hurt by flu. Graduate of Hackettstown High. Liberal Arts major.

ROBERT NASO, senior. Bob has played fullback, center and guard at Rutgers but settled at quarterback last fall and played his best game in finale with Columbia. He and Crosby should be early season starters. All-American midfielder (third team) in lacrosse. Sewanhaka High graduate (Long Island). Physical Education major. 20/32

Wingbacks

GENNARO ACANFORA, sophomore. Jerry needs experience and improved blocking, but may see reserve duty at the difficult wingback spot. With the freshmen, he played behind Arny Byrd. A graduate of Mahanoy City (Pa.) High, he is a Physical Education major.

KENNETH ALLEN, junior. Ken saw little duty last fall, but with last year's top three wingbacks no longer available, he probably will see reserve service. Has fair speed, is good blocker, good pass receiver. Graduate of Massapequa High (N. Y.). English major.

ARNOLD BYRD, sophomore. With Jay Hunton's knee injury keeping him from football this fall, Arny looms as a key figure. He adapted himself well to the wingback reverses with the frosh and demonstrated fine running ability complemented with good speed. Camden High graduate. Sociology major.

RICHARD PENCEK, junior. Dick has fine speed, will get first call at starting job following a sophomore season of learning. He played in spots last fall, but did little ball carrying. Earned "most improved" trophy as lacrosse defenseman last spring. Port Jervis (N. Y.) High School graduate. Physical Education major.

Fullbacks

BILL McGOEY, junior. When the first three fullbacks were injured simultaneously last season, Bill stepped into the breach and performed capably. Has fair speed and drive, showed improvement at defensive halfback. Graduate of Kingston (Pa.) high. Business major.

LLOYD SEAMAN, senior. Lloyd logged the most playing time at fullback last fall and averaged 4.8 yards on 52 carries. He was second leading scorer with 29 points on three TDs and 11 extra points. Also plays midfield in lacrosse. A native of India, Lloyd is graduate of Hummelstown, Pa., High. Physical Therapy major.

BILL TULLY, sophomore. The "slugger" of last year's freshman fullbacks, 195-pound Bill is the biggest at this position. He has good "desire," is conscientious, and will keep the three letter winners at fullback hustling to keep their jobs. Graduate of Bloomfield High School. Physical Education major.

GEORGE VETH, senior. An injury which caused him to report late as a sophomore and a mid-season leg ailment last year have kept George from a full season's play. He's fast, has big, powerful legs and hits hard. Also member of track team. Kearny High graduate. Electrical Engineering major.

Rutgers Athletic Administration

Harry J. Rockafeller, Director of Athletics

REGARDED as one of the best known figures associated with Scarlet athletics, "Rocky" reached a high point in his years of service and devotion to Rutgers in 1954 when he was appointed Director of Athletics, succeeding the late George E. Little, who left the post to give full time to administrative duties as Executive Secretary of the National Football Hall of Fame.

Rockafeller entered Rutgers as an undergraduate in 1912. He starred in football, basketball, and track during his four college years. He became associated with the College of Agriculture immediately after his graduation but left for service with the Army overseas during World War I. After the war, he went into industry for several years, then returned to Rutgers in 1924 as graduate manager of athletics. He was named head football coach in 1927 and in four years his teams won 19 and lost 16 games. In 1930, he resigned as coach in favor of administrative duties.

In 1932, he became head coach of 150-pound football. His lightweight teams were undefeated in 18 games and won Eastern Intercollegiate championships in 1933, 1934, and 1935. He returned again to administration in 1937 but assisted with the varsity ends when Harvey Harman came on the scene in 1938. "Rocky" again took over the varsity reins during World War II.

Albert W. Twitchell, Assistant to the Director

A 1935 graduate of Rutgers, Al Twitchell was an outstanding athlete during his undergraduate days, earning All-American honors in both football and lacrosse. After coaching at Sewanhaka High School in Long Island and Hofstra College, he returned to Rutgers in 1937 as assistant coach in lacrosse and 150-pound football. In 1950, he became head lacrosse coach, and served during 1948-51 as varsity line coach. In 1952, he relinquished his football chores to become assistant to the director of athletics. In the past eight seasons, his lacrosse teams have won 71 while losing only 23 and tying one. His 1958 team was rated fourth in the nation.

Tailbacks

WILLIAM AUSTIN, senior. See "The 1958 Captain," start of this section.

MIKE CALABRESE, sophomore. The number one frosh tailback, Mike has fair speed and running ability, but needs experience and poise. With three veterans returning at this position, including Bill Austin, this will likely be a "learning" year for Mike. Hackensack High graduate. Business major.

RONALD SCHMITT, junior. Dumont High School graduate. Physical Education major. Out of football since frosh season in 1956.

JOSEPH SMITH, sophomore. A reserve with the '57 freshmen, Joe played his high school football at East Haven, Conn. Like Calabrese, he will be counted on only as a reserve. Education major.

BRUCE WEBSTER, senior. Bruce spelled Austin most of last year, especially on defense. His running is hampered by lack of good speed, but he's a fine passer and punter. He averaged 41.1 yards on nine kicks and threw one touchdown pass among his 21 completions. Next winter's basketball captain, he's a Mineola High (Long Island) graduate. Physical Education major.

WILLIAM WOLFF, junior. A good passer, accurate punter and a much improved runner, Bill was brought along slowly last year, will give Webster a stiff battle for number two job. Threw one TD pass, scored another and comported himself well in brief periods of play. Highland Park graduate. Also plays baseball and basketball. Civil Engineering major.

PRINCETON'S PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 14; Lettermen Graduated: 13

Although Princeton has at least one letterman returning at each position, only four regular starters will be on hand. Coach Dick Colman's biggest problem spots will be at tackle, guard and quarterback, where Bob Casciola, Art Benis, Dave Grubb, Lou Brinsmade and John Sapoch held forth.

The Tigers are loaded with backs and ends, have a good number one center in Frank Svetecz, and will be bolstered by talent from an undefeated freshman team.

Dan Sachs at tailback, Fred Tiley at fullback and Mike Ippolito should pace the Tigers single wing attack.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Princeton 7, Rutgers 0

Last year's game came close to being the first tie in the 48-game Rutgers-Princeton series. It wasn't until 11:23 of the fourth quarter that Fred Tiley plunged over from the three for the game-winning score. The drive was set up by a vital pass interception a few minutes earlier by Gene Locks on the Princeton 40.

Princeton out-gained the Scarlet 294 to 153 during the afternoon. Rutgers' closest penetration was to the 18-yard line at the end of the second half. A pass interception by Jim Mottley stalled that drive. Princeton had reached the nine in the second quarter and the 12 in the third, but Rutgers had held on downs.

COLGATE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 17; Lettermen Graduated: 7

Colgate starts the uphill grind after last year's disappointing season with a squad equally divided between veterans and sophomores. A score of rookies from the powerful freshman club join 17 lettermen (seven regulars).

Al Jamison, sixth ranking end in the country last year, is the most noteworthy returnee. He's an All-America candidate. Elsewhere, Coach Fred Rice, in his second season, must replace the left side of his line and both halfbacks, positions depleted by graduation. This will be a team depending a great deal on sophomore development for success.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Colgate 6, Rutgers 48

Rutgers could do no wrong and Colgate no right in this encounter, which exactly reversed the 1956 score. Bill Austin, Rutgers tailback, scored three touchdowns and passed for another, playing less than half the game. With the game still tight at 15-6 in the second quarter, Dick Oberlander and Austin returned two Dan Cifonelli passes 12 and 76 yards, respectively, for touchdowns, to ice the contest.

When Austin passed 49 yards to Bob Simms to open the second half, the Scarlet had an insurmountable 35-6 lead. In addition to Austin, Oberlander, and Simms, Bill Wolff, and Al Goldberg scored touchdowns for the Scarlet. Al Jamison caught a 26-yard pass for Colgate's only tally.

RICHMOND PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 17; Lettermen Graduated: 10

Richmond, faced with a much tougher schedule than in 1957, expects to be strong at the ends, center and halfback, but needs help at guard, tackle and quarterback. Buddy Davis is a fine number one fullback, but Coach Ed Merrick is looking for a capable reserve here.

Pat Lamberti, a tackle last year, has been shifted to end, strengthening the flanks. Dave Ames, a speedy halfback, is expected to be the outstanding back.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Richmond 13, Rutgers 26

Bill Austin had a field day against Richmond last year, scoring all four touchdowns, one on an 84-yard pass interception. The first half was all Rutgers, with Austin scoring at 5:00 of the first period and 3:08 of the second. Rutgers came within two yards of a third TD at the gun.

A 75-yard Richmond drive in the third quarter was halted by a Jim Rogers interception in the end zone. The fourth quarter had four TDs: Austin at 2:04, Dave Ames on a 65-yard punt runback at 5:21; Austin on his pass interception at 13:15; and Art D'Arrigo on a 94-yard kickoff return at 13:28.

BUCKNELL PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 14; Lettermen Lost: 11

Bucknell has a new coach in Bob Odell, backfield mentor at the University of Wisconsin the past nine years. He has only four 1957 starters on hand. They are backs Charles Apgar and Dennis Cox, center Larry Mathias and end Jim Brady.

Lack of depth, especially in the backfield, appears to be Odell's major headache. A tough schedule and the usual problems confronting a new coaching regime have Odell playing it cautious, but he's hoping to better the 1957 mark.

LAST GAME: (1946) Rutgers 25, Bucknell 0

Frank Burns, Harvey Grimsley and Herm Hering scored the touchdowns as Rutgers concluded a 7-2 season with a 25-0 win before 15,000 fans. The Scarlet rushed and passed for 381 yards, holding Bucknell to 90, all on the ground. Burns threw 32 and 27-yard touchdown passes and ran for another.

NEW CONFERENCE

Colleges and Universities of the Middle Atlantic States College Athletic Conference have formalized play among its members in football. Rutgers, a member of the MASCAC, will therefore participate this year in the Conference's initial effort at league play.

Rutgers is in the "University" group of this conference, which includes Bucknell, Delaware, Gettysburg, Lafayette, Lehigh, Muhlenberg and Temple. The Scarlet's games against Bucknell, Lehigh, Delaware and Lafayette will qualify it for consideration as champion of the league. (A minimum of four league games is necessary.)

The championship will be decided on a percentage basis, with a team getting credit for 1 point for a win and $\frac{1}{2}$ point for a tie. The total points will be divided by the number of games played to determine the winner.

LEHIGH PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 8; Lettermen Graduated: 13

Finding a replacement for quarterback Dan Nolan is the major task confronting Bill Leckonby as he starts his 13th season at Lehigh University. Sophomore Bob Scheu and junior George Theiss, ineligible in 1957, head a group of untried quarterbacks.

Right halfback Charles Burger is the only starter returning from last year's explosive backfield. In Joe Wenzel and Dave Nevil, the Engineers have two of the East's top pass-catching ends. Lehigh's line figures to be strong defensively again but blockers of the caliber of tackle Pete Williams aren't available.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Lehigh 13, Rutgers 7

The 1957 Rutgers-Lehigh meeting was something of a paradox. Lehigh was the passing team and gained 318 of its 364 yards by rushing. Rutgers was a running team and gained 168 of its 223 yards by passing. With Dick Nolan directing the attack, Dick Pennell, Charley Burger and Walt Pijawka tore off huge chunks of yardage against the Scarlet. Nolan sneaked for a score in the second quarter and Pijawka made it 13-0 in the third period from three yards out.

After being halted on the three and later on the 12 in the first half, Rutgers finally scored midway in the fourth period on a Bill Whitacre to Dutch Wermuth pass. Bill Austin was held to 35 yards rushing by the Engineers.

DELAWARE PROSPECTS

Returning Lettermen: 14; Lettermen Graduated: 13

Quarterback is one of the few problems facing Delaware mentor Dave Nelson whose 1957 team outscored the opposition 214 to 84 but still lost three close games. Larry Catuzzi, a two-year veteran, has been graduated, but Nelson expects either Gampy Pellegrini or Karl Frantz to direct the versatile winged-T attack.

End is another problem spot, but a good crop of freshmen should help here. Elsewhere, Delaware has good size and experience, in addition to a fine overall group of freshmen. It should be a better season for the Blue Hens.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Delaware 23, Rutgers 19

Although Rutgers ripped to a 19-0 lead within the first 10 minutes of play last season, it could not continue to move on offense and couldn't hold Delaware's winged-T offensive. The Blue Hens bounced back to a 14-19 halftime deficit and took a 21-19 lead in the third quarter on a 78 yard run by Tony Toto.

Bill Austin, who ran 75 yards for a TD on the first play of the game, actually scored what would have been Rutgers fourth and winning touchdown in the third period, but the score was called back by a penalty. Rutgers second score was by Jack Canal on a Bruce Webster pass, and the third tally on a 67-yard punt return by Bob Max. George Jerome and Bob Reeder scored Delaware's first two touchdowns. The extra two points came on a fourth-quarter safety.

LAFAYETTE PROSPECTS

Lettermen Returning: 14; Lettermen Graduated: 14

Lafayette will have the lightest team in the last 20 years to greet new Coach Jim McConlogue, former backfield mentor under Steve Hokuf. Although the team will have fair speed, its lack of size may hurt.

McConlogue is happy over the fullback situation where junior Don Nikles, a strong, fast, hard-hitting runner returns. Tackle is a major worry, however, since there are no returnees there. Three ends have been shifted to fortify this spot.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Rutgers 34, Lafayette 19

Bill Austin had a sprained ankle the week prior to last year's game. The Scarlet tried to go without him and trailed 13-0 in the first quarter. But once Austin and wingback Bob Max started to click in the last three periods, the game was all Rutgers.

Joe Bozik passed to Wooten for Lafayette's first score and Don Nikles ran 44 yards for the second. Lloyd Seaman scored first for Rutgers, then Austin passed to Bill Whitacre, then Max tallied, following which Seaman scored again on a 37 yard run. Bill Wolff passed to Nick Neiley for the final score. Rutgers gained 544 yards, 392 on the ground. Austin's total was 201.

COLUMBIA PROSPECTS

Lettermen Returning: 12; Lettermen Graduated, 10

Columbia will be a much stronger team in 1958 than in 1957. A greater number of experienced men, more size and more and better depth are reasons for the greater optimism. Columbia won only one of its nine games in 1957, leaving, of course, great room for improvement.

The line, with two forward walls of fairly good size and experience available, will be the Lions' strong point. The backfield will be better than a year ago, but still not strong enough in experience and depth. Help is expected from several members of last year's frosh eleven.

LAST YEAR'S GAME: Columbia 7, Rutgers 28

For one half last year, Columbia was headed for an upset. It led 7-6 at the intermission. But once Billy Austin and the single wing got moving in the second half, it was all Rutgers. Austin scored twice and passed for a third touchdown while personally accounting for 305 of the 378 yards Rutgers gained during the day. That total set a new total offense record for Rutgers.

Austin scored on the first offensive series of the game, only to have Columbia take a 7-6 lead in the second quarter on Dick Donelli's sneak and Rudy Pegoraro's extra point. Lloyd Seaman capped a long drive in the third quarter by bucking for a 13-7 Rutgers lead. Austin made it 19-7 midway in the fourth period, and Garretson caught Austin's pass just before the final gun for the last tally.

HALL OF FAME WEEK SET

The second annual National Football Hall of Fame Week has been scheduled for October 18-25 to be highlighted on Oct. 21 by the First Annual Awards Dinner at the Hotel Astor in New York.

Much of the Hall of Fame's recent operations have been centered on this seven-day period when it is hoped the eyes of the nation will be focused on the values of amateur football.

Earlier in the fall, September 21, the 1958 electees to the Hall of Fame (eight players and one coach) will be presented on Ed Sullivan's television program.

Generally, the National Football Foundation's drive for a Hall of Fame has been pushing ahead with great vigor. Nationwide attention was received recently with the announcement that General of the Army Douglass MacArthur had accepted the Chairmanship of a newly-created National Advisory Board.

This fall, financial help is expected from some 200 colleges and 400 high schools throughout the nation. A national fund-raising drive among business leaders is soon to commence. A Memorabilia committee has been established under the leadership of Edwin H. Mosler of New York and collection of treasured football mementoes has begun.

These and other affairs have occupied the leaders of the Hall of Fame movement who hope their efforts will produce on the campus of Rutgers in the near future a Hall of Fame Building which can serve as the mecca of amateur football.

For further information concerning the Hall of Fame, write to: Football Hall of Fame, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.
